Working together during COVID-19:

- Our government is focused on ensuring Canadians and their families are safe from the impacts of COVID-19.
- Everyone is urged to celebrate a little differently this year as communities across Canada feel the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.
- We must work together to reduce the spread of the virus by practicing social distancing. This means staying home, avoiding crowds and social gatherings, and refraining from common social greetings like handshakes. Social distancing also includes not hosting or visiting your family or friends at this time.
- This year we will have to stay home. We will have to connect by video or voice call with family and friends outside the household to break fast and host Iftars.
- This is one of the most effective ways to reduce the spread of illness during the COVID-19 pandemic.
